

suitable farmland that covers a little more than half the State. Agriculture is Minnesota's largest industry, generating over $22 billion in goods and services per year. One of every four Minnesota jobs is tied in some way to agriculture, and 25 percent of our overall economy is dependent upon farmers and agri-business. Today Minnesota has approximately 87,000 family farms. Even though times are difficult for many of these family farmers, Minnesota depends upon their successful recovery.

Furthermore, Minnesota is home to some of the world's leading job providers—including 3M, Pillsbury, Honeywell, and Cargill, to name a few. Minnesota is also known for its achievements in the area of health care. It is a leader in the medical device industry and home to one of the world's premier health care facilities, the Mayo Clinic in Rochester.

Minnesota is also the birthplace of many great innovations which have become part of our American culture, such as Cellophane Transparent Tape, Post-it Notes, and the world's first enclosed mall located at Southdale Shopping Center in Edina. Today we have the Mall of America in Bloomington which is one of the world's largest enclosed malls and most popular tourist destinations. Among other notable Minnesota facts, we are the source of the Mississippi River, home to the busiest freshwater port in North America (which also happens to be the farthest inland ocean port in the United States), and Minnesota reaches the furthest north of the 48-continental States.

Mr. President, I hope I have managed to convey the pride I have for my state and its people, and in doing so, have perhaps encouraged others to visit. As a U.S. Senator from Minnesota, I wanted to express the honor I feel in representing the people of my State, which I believe is one of the premier States in the greatest country on Earth.●

TRIBUTE TO BARBARA MULLEN, RECIPIENT OF THE JEFFREY MAY MEMORIAL AWARD

● Mr. SMITH of New Hampshire. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to Barbara Mullen for being awarded the Jeffrey May Memorial Award from the Londonderry Business Council. It is a pleasure to recognize her contributions to her community and the Granite State.

In 1980, Barbara established the Londonderry Dance Academy and has been teaching children to dance ever since. Her community involvement has helped shape the lives of many young people in Londonderry and across the state. Barbara nurtures the aspirations of the town's youth by sharing her love and expertise of dance.

As a faculty member of the Department of Dance at the University of New Hampshire, Barbara also instructs dance students at the college level. In addition, during the holiday season, Barbara and her students perform the "Nutteracker" at local schools and in other communities, in an effort to spread a greater appreciation for the arts.

Barbara's dedication to dance, children and the community is exemplary and an example for others to follow.

Mr. President, I wish to commend Barbara Mullen on her achievements and congratulate her on receiving this prestigious award. It is an honor to her in the United States Senate.●

MAINE SOUTH HIGH SCHOOL AND THE "WE THE PEOPLE" COMPETITION

● Mr. FITZGERALD. Mr. President, last week, high school students from across the United States came to Washington, D.C. to compete in the national finals of the "We the People . . . The Citizen and the Constitution" program. These young scholars worked diligently to reach the national finals and through their experience have gained a deep knowledge and understanding of the fundamental principles and values of our constitutional democracy. I am proud to announce that the class from Maine South High School from Park Ridge, Illinois won the competition.

The "We the People . . . The Citizen and the Constitution" program is designed to educate young people about the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. The three-day national competition is modeled after hearings in the United States Congress. These hearings consist of oral presentations by high school students before a panel of expert judges. The students testify as constitutional experts before a "congressional committee," that is, a panel of judges representing various regions in the country and a cross-section of professional fields. The student testimony is followed by a period of questioning during which the judges quiz students for their depth of understanding and their ability to apply their constitutional knowledge.

I congratulate all the student teams who made it to the national finals. Each of those young people took the time to truly learn about our Constitution and Bill of Rights. In return, they got the opportunity to come to Washington and to meet other students from around the country. I applaud their efforts and initiative.

I am particularly proud that the winning team is from Maine South High School in Park Ridge, Illinois. Led by their teacher, Patton Feichter, the students won the three day competition to become national champions. At a time when so much of our attention is focused on youth violence, it is particularly refreshing to congratulate an outstanding group of young people who worked very hard to achieve their goals. I congratulate the students, parents, and Maine South faculty members on all their hard work to win the competition.●

TRIBUTE TO KENNETH WINTERS

● Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, I rise today to honor Dr. Kenneth Winters on the occasion of his retirement as president of Campbellsville University. Ken is a good personal friend and an admired leader in Taylor County.

Ken served as Campbellsville's president for the past 11 years, and accomplished much during his tenure. Under Ken's leadership, the school gained university status after having been known as Campbellsville College since its inception in 1909. The added prestige that comes with university status, coupled with Ken's hard work to make the school an academic success, helped increase Campbellsville enrollment by stunning 150 percent. The university also has been duly recognized by publications such as U.S. News & World Report, Money and Newsweek for its outstanding academic reputation. Ken's presidency brought a strong, guiding presence to Campbellsville, leaving a legacy of growth and progress.

As importantly, Ken showed unwavering commitment to the students and faculty at CU, and was well-liked and respected by all. Ken's colleagues describe him as a man with great strength of character—a man who demonstrated honesty and integrity, and who served as a campus role-model.

I am certain that the legacy of excellence that Ken Winters has left will continue on, and will encourage and inspire others toward that same goal. Ken, best wishes on your future endeavors, and know that your efforts to better Christian higher education will be felt for years to come. On behalf of myself and my colleagues, thank you for your contribution to Taylor County, the State of Kentucky, and to our great Nation.●

TRIBUTE TO CONSTANCE ROSS, THE 1999 LONDONDERRY EDUCATOR OF THE YEAR

● Mr. SMITH of New Hampshire. Mr. President, I rise today to recognize and congratulate Constance Ross for being named the "1999 Educator of the Year" by the Londonderry Business Council.

From teacher to administrator, Constance has built a reputation for excellence and achievement in many areas of education. In addition to serving the community as the Assistant Principal of South Londonderry School, she has become known throughout the State of New Hampshire for her tireless efforts to promote literacy among children. Constance's expertise in the teaching and advocacy of reading have propelled her to the position of co-chair of the "Governor's Best Schools Initiative," as well as president of the New England Reading Association.

Active inside and outside of classrooms and schools, Constance has demonstrated wisdom, compassion, and
